MONDAY EVENING'S STORM. | BIG EXCURSION PARTY.

Lightning Plays Its Pranks In Several Directions, Though No Serious Loss Occurs.

On Monday evening, about 6:30 o'clock, a fierce storm of wind and rain, accompanied by heavy thunder and lightning visited this city and vicinity.

The residence of Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr., just outside the city limits, was struck by lightning and the cupola badly damaged and the family considerably shocked and shaken up.

The smoke-house attached to the residence of Capt. John R. Spiers on Campbell street, was struck by the electric fluid and a considerable slice torn out, but, strange to say, the building was not burned.

Mrs. C. G. Mutzenburgh, who lives close by Capt. Spiers, was at work in her kitchen at the time, and was knocked down by the current and badly stunned, feeling the effects of the stroke for some hours afterwards.

The telephone wires were struck several times and three or four loud reports proceeded from the East Tennessee Co.'s office, on Main street, many people being lead to believe that the office had been damaged.

The water poured down in sheets, so that the sewers, on Clifton street, were choked, and the street, from Lewis street west to the river, was a lake of water, from six inches to two feet in depth.

The weather, while it had been close and sultry, became much cooler and more pleasant rendering sleep that night delightful.

It is ridiculous that no serious damage was done.

WITH HIGH HONORS.

Mr. J. McCluskey Blayney, Jr., of this city, graduated at the Harvard Law School, New Haven, Conn., this week with high honors.

Mr. Blayney is the youngest son of Rev. Dr. J. McCluskey Blayney, sr., of this city, and is a talented young man. He studied law with his uncle, Gen. Dan W. Lindsey.

THE GROCERY STORE OF MR. CHAS. W. SCHAFF, MASONIC TEMPLE, ANN STREET, WAS BROKEN INTO, ON MONDAY NIGHT BY BURGLARS.

THE SAME THIEVES, WHO APPARENTLY GAINED ADMISSION TO THE HARDWARE HOUSE OF MR. FRANK G. STAGG, ADJOINING ON THE SOUTH, BUT WERE UNABLE TO GAIN ENTRANCE.

A LITTLE MORE VIGILANCE ON THE PART OF THE POPEYES WOULD HELP THINGS, AND A DOSE OF COLD IRON WOULD COOL THE ARDOR OF THE THIEVES.

FRANKLIN COUNTY SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONVENTION.

In another column of today's issue of the Roundabout will be found the program for the above named convention.

This promises to be one of the most successful of the annual meetings.

Mr. T. C. Gobaner, of Henderson, Ky., Field Worker for Kentucky Sunday-school Association, will be with us and will have charge of the Round Table Exercises. These exercises are very interesting and instructive.

All the Sunday-schools of the county are earnestly requested to send delegates.

In order that these gatherings may not be a burden to any community in the way of entertainment all who can conveniently do so are expected to bring lunch baskets.

Bethel Baptist Church, place of meeting, is situated about four miles from Frankfort on the Owen-pike.

RUNAWAY.

A horse attached to the buggy of Mr. J. B. Polk became frightened on Broadway street, Thursday afternoon, and ran away. It turned up Lewis street and fell, when reaching Main street, dashing the buggy against the plate glass window of Mr. W. S. Farmer, luckily not breaking the glass. The horse was captured then and no further damage done. One wheel and a shaft of the buggy were broken.

A DANGEROUS DESCENT.

Shockingly Underhanding of Two Danging Workmen on the Highway Bridge.

Buckless daring is often displayed by workmen while daily labor places them in positions of danger that those who have to deal with them are astonished at nofeat of bravado. Mr. Frank Skinner gives in McClure's Magazine an instance of this daring on the part of men who were engaged in replacing the Niagara suspension bridge.

It happened that so many valuable tools were dropped from the bridge that some of the men carelessly left them uncharged. Consequently when one day a man dropped a wrench 200 feet to the water's edge, he foolishly started to recover it by descending hand over hand on a steeply inclined, thin wire cable nearly 500 feet long.

He had no sooner started on his insane exploit than a rial, out of sheer bravado, essayed to descend an adjacent rope. After going a few feet they both realized the almost impossible nature of the journey they had undertaken, and tried to return. It could not be done, and the only choice of safety lay in continuing their descent.

It seemed to their horrified companions that human muscles could not endure the increasing strain of that long passage downward. The foreman shouted instructions, interpersed with violent abuse, the object of which was to divert them from the fright that added to their danger.

By what seemed almost a miracle both men held on until they had reached the water. Then one of them dropped safely into a tree top, the other finally gave out, and fell a considerable distance to the ground. Both, however, escaped practically unharmed.

PHENOMENAL MEMORIES.

A Noted Societist Who Could at Once Recall the Names of 25,000 Plants.

Many of the greatest men have had phenomenal memories. Caesar knew the names of thousands of soldiers in his army. A modern man of science has a prodigious memory for special terminology. Prof. Asa Gray assured us, says Prof. E. S. Holden, in Harper's Magazine, that he could at once recall the names of something like 25,000 plants; Prof. Theodore Gill can do the same for fishes. Our memory for mere words is itself much more extensive than is generally admitted. The average well-to-do child of two years of age has a vocabulary of some 500 words, and its father may have the command of 20,000 more. The 10,000 verses of the Rig-Veda have for 3,000 years been accurately preserved in the memories of the Brahmins. Not one Brahmin alone, but thousands, can recite ready to word for word, thousands of Mohammedans, likewise, know the Koran by heart, as all learned Chinese know their classic books. The chiefs of Polynesia can and do repeat hundreds of thousands of words in their genealogies—taking days and even weeks for the recitation.

Hundreds of pianists can play all day, and many days, by memory, and I have myself seen Von Buelow conduct Beethoven's fifth symphony without a score. Chess players have a visualizing memory, while arithmetical prodigies may have any one of the three or a combination of all.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day." That is the true adage, we want to go to work at breaking up the demoralizing cold which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. King's German Syrup, with its bark. It is not food, but thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undeniably relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No other bark syrup has beaten your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs. German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25¢; regular size, 75¢. At all drugstores.

PROF. FROGGE.

Sketch of Retiring Superintendent of Frankfort City Schools.

In the recent change of the superintendent at the city school, we present Prof. S. L. Frogge, who will not be a native of Frankfort, but is a Kentuckian by birth, having been raised on a farm in Logan county, near Russellville. Prof. Frogge's father was Rev. Timothy D. Frogge, minister of the Louisville Congregational Church, Louisville, and, while stationed at Scottsville, the subject of this sketch was born. He attended the neighborhood school until he was fifteen years old, when he entered the Louisville Greenup College. Was graduated from Bethel College, Louisville, Ky., in 1875, with the degree of A. B., receiving the degree of A. M. in 1878. Prof. Frogge has made teaching his life-work, and, having filled nearly every position in this professional field, commencing to teach when a mere boy, in the country schools of McLean and Logan counties. Then, for 10 years, he taught in twenty-seven, and, after half a year of continual school work, since finishing his college course, he has filled the position of county superintendent and city superintendent, and, in these positions, has made himself a model for all who have preceded him. His work here four years ago show the high esteem of both pupils and parents. In the field of his labors, he has been a success, and, having filled nearly every position in this professional field, commencing to teach when a mere boy, in the country schools of McLean and Logan counties. Then, for 10 years, he taught in twenty-seven, and, after half a year of continual school work, since finishing his college course, he has filled the position of county superintendent and city superintendent, and, in these positions, has made himself a model for all who have preceded him.

During his life, Prof. Frogge has educated quite a number of young men. A great many of them hold educational positions of importance in the State to-day. And not one of these adopted sons but proudly claims that the course of study he received turned him. He has been often, within the past year, a very flattering and lucrative position and will no doubt take advantage of it. Prof. Frogge has greatly endeared himself to teacher and pupil who will regret his loss.

We heartily endorse every word of the above, which is taken from our contemporary, the Kentucky Journal of May 8th.

"What a brute!" I heard a lady say as I rose from the dinner table in the hotel, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. I did not know that I was the person to whom she referred till afterward, when a friend of mine who was sitting at a table near by spoke of "The lady at your table last night thought you were a brute," he remarked, laughing.

"I heard you use the word, but it never occurred to me that I was the person she alluded to. What did I say?" I asked.

"You carried off your newspaper."

"Well?" I asked, "what of that?"

"I gathered from what she said to the waiter, continued my friend, "that the town where she lives is not a large one, and that the people there are not very friendly to the daily papers. They are placed on the tables in the dining-room and are free to all. We supposed all hotels did the same, and that you were carrying off a paper that was common property. She considered you a brute, because she was not accustomed to seeing hotel guests buy their papers."

NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

This grand body of educators meets in St. Louis, Mo., on Monday next, June 27. Prof. S. L. Frogge, of this city, is State Director for Kentucky, and leaves to-morrow (Sunday) night for that place.

We take the following clipping from the Southern School Journal:

For many years a few Kentuckians like Superintendents Bartholomew, Rhoads, Frogge and Mark have been faithful in their attendance upon the N. E. A. These are, indeed, the early fruits of aggressive education. If men like these find it profitable to attend the N. E. A. regularly, what about the great army of public teachers who never attend even one session of that body?

The iniquity with which this clipping closes is a very pertinent one, especially to this section of the State.

A little life may be sacrificed to a sudden attack of croup, if you don't have Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil on hand for the emergency.

OUT WITH THE TIDE.

As Illustrative Instance of How Far It Will Carry Objects in a Short Time.

"Few persons have any idea of how fast the tide runs or of how far it will carry an object in a very few hours," said the captain of one of the dock department's steam launches, according to the New York Times. "Not very long ago a raft of 50 or 50 piles was cast adrift at the foot of East Twenty-fourth street. As these piles cast all the way from eight dollars to 25 cents, they were worth chasing, so just as soon as the loss was discovered in the morning I started out."

"The search continued down the East river and along the Brooklyn side through Buttermilk channel, but without success. Over on the south shore of Governor's Island we found eight or ten of the missing piles. We ran along down by Bay Ridge, and had about decided to abandon our efforts, when we reached Fort Hamilton. But we thought we might as well make a good job of it, and a little way farther on, just beyond the Narrows and around on the north side of Gravesend bay, we found about half of the wayward piles. They had traveled down there, a distance of ten miles, on one tide, and I thought at the time that it was small wonder that so many drowned bodies are never recovered in these parts."

Remarkable Escape.

One of the greatest curiosities in the neighborhood of New York is now to be seen at the foot of the Palisades. Between two frame houses built there is a giant bowlder 26 feet high and 20 feet wide, which fell from a great height, at the top of the Palisades, and sweeping down the front of the cliff, uprooted big trees, tore up tons of loose stone and cut a wide swath the entire distance. Finally, after zig-zagging down one side to the other, it stopped in between two houses and stopped there. The people were asleep in the houses when the rock started. They had barely time to make their escape when it made its appearance at their front doors. They are now thanking their lucky stars that the enormous stone did not hit one of the buildings.

COST OF MEERSCHAUM.

The Expense is Not in the Meerschaum but in the Making of the Pipe.

A fire in a pipe-maker's shop the other day spoiled the proprietor's stock of meerschaum, and incidentally disposed of the idea, common in most smokers' minds, that this commodity is very expensive. Meerschaum itself is not expensive. That used by the manufacturers in this country is imported raw clay material from Austria. The best material is obtained in Asia Minor. Usually there are three or four different grades, running from the rough and mixed to the pure and finely grained article. There is no duty upon it. The chunks, not unlike Cannel coal in shape, are packed in long boxes, about two feet and a half long, a foot wide, and a foot high. The raw material is quite brittle and has to be soaked in water before it is used for molding.

Meerschaum pipes are expensive, says the New York Post, because much of the material from which the bowls are made has to be thrown away before a piece is found that has no flaws in it. The shavings, however, are never wasted. They are used to make a cheaper grade of pipes, which are known as chip meerschaum.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, can often better their condition by a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectation in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of night-waking cough and delirium, night-sweats, loss of appetite, and the elevation due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup daily and regularly. Should you be unable to get to a warm climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. Trial bottle, 25¢; regular size, 5¢. At all drug-gists.

UGLY CHARGES.

One of the most revolting cases that has ever occurred in this section of the country, transpired last week at the Lexington post house, if the charges as made by the friends of the victim—Mr. J. W. Gibson—are true.

It seems that Mr. Gibson contracted small-pox when employed as a carpenter by a family by the name of Shropshire, in Fayette county. He went to his house at the extreme edge of Lexington (removed some hundreds of feet from other houses), and was quarantined in his own house. The health officer compelled him to go to the post house, contrary to his will.

It is charged that the physician at the post house only visited the man once; that the nurse neglected him; that he was left alone some twenty-four hours; that he died alone and the lady was left neglected some thirty-six hours, while his family were informed that he was doing well and would soon be out; that only a few minutes before the family learned that he was dead; that he was reported as greatly better; that the body was left so long unattended to, before an undertaker was summoned, that it swelled and burst and the exundations had run over the bed and floor of the room to such an extent as caused the undertaker great trouble in getting ventilation enough to handle the body.

The man was a brother-in-law of U. S. Deputy Marshal Rousseau True, of this city, and had other relatives here.

His family and Mr. True make these charges and stand ready to substantiate them, so they claim.

If these things be true, it is a case that calls for a thorough and vigorous investigation and the severest punishment of the guilty parties.

Deadly

Grasp of Grip Prostrated Me.

Dr. Miles’ Nervine Built Up My

Shattered Nerves and Gave Me an Appetite.

Of the millions of people, who today suffer from nervous disease, we weaker, a larger percentage, than the others, are victims of the Grippe. It is a germ disease, and makes a direct attack upon the nerves, putting an extra strain upon them at the time of convalescence, than the rest of the body. It attacks you to a shattered nervous system, with loss of appetite, lack of energy, insomnia, frequent headaches, and aches in the body, and gradually strengthens the weakened nerves with Dr. Miles’ Nervine. It will undo that grip that has one, bring back appetite, restore the nerves, and give you a new lease of life.

I want to write this testimonial for the benefit of those who have suffered from this dread disease—Grippe. I suffered several weeks with it, and having tried several remedies, with no success, I called on Dr. Miles, and he came to my rescue. (I suffered, almost death), and finally my daughter (so I am told) Dr. Miles’ Nervine to me and I took it, and I am now well again. I am now in a week. In a week I built up my shattered nerves and gave me a brand new lease. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Miles’ Nervine. Any one who has suffered from Grippe will find instant relief by getting a bottle of Dr. Miles’ Nervine. It will have a wonderful effect. This will benefit me poor brother, I mean—Mrs. George B. Hall, Jackson, Tenn.

CAREFUL DRIVING — CAREFUL SHOEING.

On Sunday afternoon, in the short space of an hour, we saw five horses slip and fall on the brick streets, on the square bounded by St. Clair and Ann streets, on Main, and several others slipped without falling.

Part of this was due to reckless driving, but the greater part to the fact that the horses were not properly shod for driving on brick streets. Several of the animals, on doubt, showed up on Monday morning, considerably bunged up, and one, in all probability, badly strained as his hind legs were thrown in different directions.

We would respectfully suggest to drivers more careful driving on brick streets than on Macadam, and, as to those having charge of horses, that they watch and see when the horse’s shoes become slippery and have the defect remedied.

THE HOUSE OF FULFILMENT.

George Madden Martin is repeating her “Emmy Lou” success in her first novel, “The House of Fulfillment,” now running serial in McClure’s. In the July installment, the third, she brings her characters into the heart of things and introduces her charming young heroine into the real life of her world. She is learning what it is to love and be loved, to assume responsibilities, to face and conquer the problems of life, and she carries her readers in closest sympathy with her. The care of her mother, the coming of suitors, the management of her affairs, and her entrance into society are all making for character in Alexina and you follow her unfolding with keenest interest.

BIG SUCCESS.

The picnic given by the Frankfort Cornet Band, on Tuesday last, at Cox Spring Park, was a big success in every way. The fun was kept up until way towards morning of Wednesday, and the street cars were kept busy until daylight carrying out and bringing back the crowds.

VALUABLE MAN DIES.

Capt. Harry B. Jenks, one of the most efficient and best posted officers of the postoffice department, was found dead in a berth on a sleeping car, on Friday morning, when returning from a business trip to Chicago, Ills. He died from angina pectoris.

Capt. Jenks was appointed to his position originally from Massachusetts, but had lived many years in Kentucky and married a Covington lady.

ANOTHER DEPARTMENT.

The Kentucky Farmer and Breeder, the weekly farm and stock paper established at Lexington the first of the year, has broken all circulation records by obtaining a paid in advance circulation of 12,500 within three and one-half months, of its establishment, has just added another department of interest and value to its subscribers. It has induced Mr. Hector E. Hillenmeyer, the leading horticulturist, not only of Kentucky, but of the Central States, to take charge of a department of correspondence in which all inquiries pertaining to fruit and forest trees, to vines and agricultural produce will be answered. Any inquiries on any of these subjects addressed to The Kentucky Farmer and Breeder will be answered by Mr. Hillenmeyer in the succeeding issue.

To wide and varied experience Mr. Hillenmeyer adds accurate and scientific information, with the power of clear expression in perfect English. His services could not be obtained by any paper save through his desire to give to others the benefit of his knowledge and experience, and he has consented to conduct this department for the subscribers of The Kentucky Farmer and Breeder as a labor of love. The paper and the wide circle of people who read it are to be congratulated upon the establishment of this department under Hillenmeyer’s able direction.

THE KENTUCKY CHAUTAUQUA.

In a few days the annual Chautauqua feast will be opened at beautiful Woodland Park, Lexington. Everything is now being put in readiness. The trees were never greener. The shade never more grateful. Soon the white tents in great numbers will be pitched about the beautiful grounds. The great auditorium will be decorated, and everything will be in readiness for the opening of the session.

Multitudes of earnest people look forward with great anticipation for the coming of the Chautauqua. It means so much to the social and intellectual life of the State. For eighteen years they have been listening with interest to the great lecturers of the American platform, and have enjoyed the rare music and rich entertainments which have been provided. The expense of these entertainments to those who purchase season tickets is trivial in the extreme, buying such entertainment as ordinarily cost from 50c. to $1 to those who have season tickets at about 10c.

Now that the Chautauqua no longer owns its own grounds, and is thrown upon its own resources, the lovers of the enterprise should manifest their interest in it by purchasing this year's season tickets. More than a thousand such tickets should be sold to the good people before the gates are thrown open and the Chautauqua commences. The rich program justifies the expectation that this will be one of the best sessions of the assembly.

The days from June 25th to July 8th will be filled with rare pleasure and enjoyment. In this crucial year, when the outcome will decide the future, as far as the Kentucky Chautauqua is concerned, the people of Kentucky should give the enterprise their heartiest co-operation.

Splendid work for the children has also been provided with Woman's Conferences of interest under the control of the Woman's Council, and Biblical work under that prince of leaders, Dr. M. M. Parkhurst.

For programs, tents, tickets, and all information apply to Mr. Claude Buckley, Transylvania Printing Co., Lexington, Ky.

CARLISLE COMMANDERY, NO. 18, K. T.

We take the following from the Nichols News, of June 18:

KNIGHT TEMPLAR BAN-

Carlisle Commandery, No. 18, Knights Templar, was constituted on May 1, 1886, and a magnificient banquet served at the Kimbrough House in the evening.

The Commandery was honored by the presence of the following Grand Officers:

Right Eminent Past Grand Commander Geo. A. Lewis, Right

Eminent Grand Commander Robert R. Burnard, Grand Generals

Thomas, K. A. Grant, 1st

Warden Jos. H. Ewalt, Grand Prelate

John G. Cramer, Grand Rec-

orderer John H. Bryant, Grand Captain of the Guard M. P. Brown,

John S. Deaderick, of Coeur de

Leve Commandery.

The members and officers of the Commandery are highly elated at the auspicious prospects of their Commandery, at their very enjoyable meeting, which was certainly a success. The members are doing without doubt and in all earnestness a gathering of "fair women and brave men," and they hope and believe that Carlisle Commandery is with the ranks of the Knights attending the banquets.

After the institution of the commandery the subordinate officers were installed as follows:

John D. Allep, Senior Warden,

Jos. A. Clegg, Junior Warden,

J. Russell, Prelate, Wm. H. Harris, Recorder, Thos. L. McCann,

Treasurer, Geo. H. Spence, Standard Bearer, Henry S. Darnell,

Sword Bearer, Foster V. Cox, War-

der, Joel A. Day, Sentinel.

THE BIGGEST THING EVER."

There is no doubt now but that the 4th of July celebration this year will be the "biggest thing ever" in this community. The committees are all hard at work and all necessary arrangements are being rapidly completed.

There will be plenty of oratory, shooting, and oratory. If that combination don't bring the crowd we are greatly mistaken.

B. P. O. ELKS.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 18th to 23d, 1904.

For the above occasion the Pritchard & Cincinnati Elks will sell tickets at $3.00 for the round trip. Dates of sale July 16th, 17th and 18th, all trains. Tickets good without deposit until August 4th, with deposit until August 25th.

FOR A HUNDRED YEARS.

For a hundred years or more Witch Hazel has been recognized as a superior remedy, but it remained for E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, to discover how to combine the virtues of Witch Hazel with other ingredients to form a salve. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the best salve in the world for sores, cuts, burns, bruises, and piles. The high standing of this salve has given rise to counterfeits, and the public is advised to look for the name "DeWitt" on the package, and accept no other. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

KENTUCKY AT THE FAIR.

Blue Grass Traditions Splendidly Upheld and the Reputation of the State Enhanced, by T. K. Hurdle, k.

St. Louis, June 22, 1904.—If you ask a Kentuckian what is the principal exhibit of his State at the general direction of the Administration Building, and say, "President Francis?" President Francis is a Kentucky product, but as Missouri, and the nation at large claim some proprietary interest in him, Kentucky has seen fit to make these representations exclusively her own.

The qualities and resources of the State are comprehensively and eloquently attested to in these exhibits, and the Kentucky may well be proud of the showing made in every department to which the State has contributed, for it is represented in nearly every major department of the Exposition. In agriculture, commerce, and in natural resources, Kentucky stands well forward.

A State of noble traditions and rich in storied memories of great deeds and great men, it has yet seen fit to exhibit its products in a degree to matters of more present moment, deeming it advisable to show the world not so much what Kentucky has done, as what it is doing and can do. Without any argument, however, these exhibits which have made her famous for open-hearted hospitality, Kentucky yet shows that she stands second to no locality in her commercial opportunities, nor the rewards which apply to individual effort, rightly applied.

Accepting the keynote of the World's Fair, which is sounded as "an exhibition of processes," the State has got in harmony with the trend and spirit of the age, and shown that she is a power in her power. In the Palace of Agriculture, Kentucky's displays include an exhibition of hemp culture and manufacture, and all the manufacturing processes of the tobacco plant from crop to finished products which bring roseate dreams to the consumer of the "philosophic weed." And of course there are illustrations of what can be done with hemp and corn, without which a Kentucky display would be incomplete.

Kentucky's display of clay in the Palace of Mines and Metallurgy is, in itself, a wonder-world. To him who has not seen it, it is a mystery. It was used simply to make churbs and jugs, this exhibit is a revelation. It is a liberal education in ceramics, and in the utilitarian uses of humble material in building. It is a revelation in pottery. The rock quarries in operation, and the display of canal coal, in the same building, further attest the riches that lie beneath the surface of the "dark and bloody ground."

The Kentuckian visiting the Fair should not fail to take cognizance of these things, nor to bear witness to what his State is doing. In the Palace of Education it shows the development of the public school system of Louisville through a period of 115 years, and, no less interesting, the progress that has been made in the manual and literary education of the blind, as exemplified in the world of the pupils of the Kentucky School for the Blind. Testifying to the artistry of the State, and showing that its worth lies in the craftsmanship of the masters, are several pieces of Kentucky sculpture, which are incorporated in the decorations of the main buildings of the Fair. Notable among these is a beautiful "Victory," by Miss Enid Yandell, of Louisville, crowning the dome of the Cascade Restaurant Building.

In the Palace of Fine Arts Kentucky is also well represented, but perhaps the State's best display of its artistic products is in the Kentucky State Building, where it shows a complete and interesting art gallery of its own. Here are numerous fine canvases by Hewitt Greene, Miss Thorne, and other artists, besides a fine series of decorative and single pieces of statuary.

The building, "The New Kentucky Home," is the central feature of the State's exhibit at the Fair. It is a magnificent structure, covering an area of 188 by 80 feet. It is a granite building, built through the lawns of native blue grass, lead to the entrances, of which there are four. Wide porches, with symmetrical colonnades and square pillars, bespeak a stately, but eloquently simple, veridical hospitality of the State, and seem to bid the passerby to pause and rest here. The wayfarer who beeds this invitation and enters the "New Kentucky Home" to feel "at home" in the spirit of the place is fittingly welcomed by the State button, which bears a picture of the building, with the legend: "The Kentucky Home—It's part of me!" Here pleasant parlors, reception rooms, a grand entrance of the general secretary, Mr. R. E. Hughes, or of the fair hostess, Mrs. Smith, in viewing the social, artistic and sentimental side of Kentucky and manners.

In the building, finished in the first floor, are displayed oil-portraits of Kentucky's famous characters, as well as other specimens of native art. Pendant from the balcony of the second floor, and almost touching the carpet of the first, hangs a colossal and beautiful flag of silk, which possesses his-topic charm. It is the "home coming" of this home city, Kentucky, when that was home-ward bound from the Asiatic station under the command of Capt. William Mallory Berry, himself a Kentuckian. Upon the arrival of the Kentucky Home waters, her officers and crew sent the flag to present to Governor Beckman. Its beautiful folds show little effect of wear from its 13,000-mile journey across seas. Elegant parlors, reception rooms, galleries of historical relics and specimens of native art, make the second and third floors of the "home" well worth inspection.

But the "Kentucky Home" exists not only for purposes of entertainment, it is the scene of continual social entertainment of visitors, and many formal and informal receptions, Kentucky entertains lavishly. It was one of the two States which had the distinction of receiving the distinguished members of the Press Parliament, and has entertained many visiting bodies, including the American Press Association.

With true Kentucky generosity, the officers of the commission have tendered the use of the home for entertainment purposes to several States and territories which have no official residences of their own on the continent. Alabama, Colorado and other sections have taken advantage of this offer.

A file of State papers and Kentucky books and periodicals is kept constantly on hand for the delectation of her visiting sons and daughters, who may find within the kindly precincts of the New Kentucky Home and feel that in truth they are in a home environment. All in all, Kentucky has wrought the Fair well for herself, and her character doubtless will do their part in coming to view what she has prepared in their behalf.

Bad blood and indigestion are deadly enemies to good health. Burdock Blood Bitters destroy them.

REPUBLICAN NOMINEES.

The Republican National Convention met in Chicago, Ills., on Tuesday and proceeded to the nomination of candidates for President and Vice-President.

Some very brilliant and able speeches were made by the leaders of that party.

On Thursday President Theodore Roosevelt was unanimously nominated for re-election.

U. S. Senator C. W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, was nominated by acclamation for Vice-President.

There was a splendid crowd of intelligent and progressive people present, and there was the most unprecedented harmony and good feeling prevailing.

Gov. Bradley, made one of the finest, if not the finest, speeches of his life in seconding the nomination of President Roosevelt. He met with a splendid ovation.

There is no question but that the doughty Governor is one the best orators and most popular men in his party.

REVOLUTION IMMINENT.

A sure sign of approaching revolution is nervous trouble. The nervous system is nervous, sleepless, and stomach upsets. Electric Bitters will quickly dispel the trouble-some causes. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bladder, stimulate the Liver, and refresh the blood. The Bitters system has benefited particularly and thus attend attending aches and pains in its searching and thorough effectiveness. Electric Bitters is only one and that is returned if it don't give perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed by all druggists.

WILLIAM YEOMAN, A. W. MCKEE,

The Yeoman Carriage Co.

Formerly the Seller Carriage Co., so Well and Favorably Known to the People of Franklin County.

RIGHTLY MADE

Vehicles require no better recommendation than hard service. Honest service, honest workmanship and honest prices have sold more carriages for us than all the printed praise we could bestow upon them. You can easily satisfy yourself that this is so, and that you will obtain perfect satisfaction in every detail.

The reputation we have established for good work and fair dealing under the firm name of the Seller Carriage Co. [founded by our Mr. Yeoman and the late Henry Heimiller, Esq., in 1876], we shall fully maintain, in the several departments of carriage building. Our repair and repainting departments are fully equipped, and we wish to say to our friends, should they favor us with their carriage, that we are prepared to repair the best work possible.

We have in our ware-rooms a complete stock of factory-made vehicles; also a nice line of our own make of its usual splendid quality. We are prepared to build to order any style of pleasure vehicles.

ANTIOCH NEWS.

Mr. Lucas Suter, of Owen county, also Miss Edith Edge, of Bridgewater, spent several days last week at Mr. Lyman Suter's and also at Mr. Ed. Sheet.

Little Myrtle Moore, the 7-year-old daughter of Mr. George Moore, struck a nail in her foot, but she is not seriously injured.

Mr. Irving Haas' horse was seen hitched in Mr. Murrell's yard all Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Belle Wright is the guest of her son, Mr. Benton Moore.

We had a nice rain Monday evening, and nearly every body is smoking tobacco.

There were a good many people playing croquet at Mr. Franklin Moore's Sunday afternoon.

Miss Ella Glare was made acquainted with Mr. Hall Sunday night.

The many friends of Mr. Lloyd Smith are pressing him to run for Constable in this district, and it is hoped that he will yield to their opportunities. He is the right man for the place.

And only lastly there is considerable talk in regard to Judge R. E. Gaines announcing himself for County Judge. He made a splendid Magistrate, and he is a man of extensive and varied erudition. He should announce himself at once.

Aunt Sis Glare, the hermitess, is still in the old homestead, looking after things. She has a jolly old time with her associates, which consist of one cat and three hens. May she live long and prosper.

GOOD SPIRITS.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State seem to have the effect of a hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you want fine, nutritious, appetizing, healthy, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest all-admirable for the liver and stomach and certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active, and thus insure you a healthy, happy and useful life. Trial size, 25¢; regular bottles, 75¢. At all druggists.

ANOTHER "RED SAUNDERS" STORY.

Henry Wallace Phillips takes "Red Saunders" into the midst of the problems of labor and law and order at "Big Bend," in his story "A Knot and a Slash," in the July McClure's. The manner in which "Red Saunders" slashes the Gordian knot is refreshingly original and humorous. By his canniness of the men and things of his world, "Red" manages to get himself elected presiding officer at a lynching bee, which doesn't come off through "Red's" own skillful manipulation. "Red" saves an innocent life and adds a link to the sheepish, force, and with all he contributes a quantity of comical incident and quaint philosophy. A. B. Frost "saves the story in his usual accurate and artistic manner.

A COSTLY MISTAKE.

Blunders are sometimes very expensive. Occasionally life itself is at a price. If you are your own master, be wrong if you take Dr. King's New Life Pills for Dyspepsia, Dizziness, Headache, Liver or Bowel troubles. They are gentle yet thorough. 25¢ at all druggists.

A FRIGHTENED HORSE

Running like mad down the street, dumping the occupants, or a hundred other accidents, are every day occurrences. It behoves everybody to have a reliable Salve handy and there's none as good as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Burns, Cuts, Sprains, and sores, disappear quickly under its soothing effect. 25¢, at all druggists.
